

NEP to help discard 'slave mentality' regarding English: PM Modi

ADALAJ: PM Narendra Modi on Wednesday said the 5G telecom service would take the education system in the country to the next level as the latest technology will go beyond smart facilities, smart classrooms, and smart teachings.

He also asserted that the New Education Policy (NEP) will pull the country out of the "slave mentality" surrounding the English language. He was speaking after launching the Gujarat government's Mission Schools of Excellence initiative at Adalaj in Gandhinagar district. He pointed out that knowledge of English was considered as the mark of being intellectual even though the English language is just a medium of communication.

The Mission will help strengthen education infrastructure in Gujarat by setting up new classrooms, smart classrooms, computer labs and overall upgradation of the infrastructure of schools in the state.

"Recently-launched 5G service will go beyond smart facilities, smart classrooms, and smart teachings. It will take our education system to the next level," Modi said.

The Prime Minister also advocated the use of local languages to make sure that those uncomfortable with English are not left behind.

"Earlier, knowledge of the English language was considered a criterion of being intellectual. In reality, the English language is just a medium of communication. This language barrier was a hindrance. Many young talents from villages could not become doctors and engineers because they were not well-versed in English," he said.

The PM said youngsters now have the option to pursue studies in other languages.

"We aim to ensure that children of poor parents become doctors and engineers even if they are not educated in English (medium). We want to ensure that no one is left behind due to the lack of the English language," Modi said, adding the "New Education Policy of the Centre will pull the country out from this slave mentality surrounding the English language".

The prime minister said that Gujarat has experienced a drastic change in the education scenario during the last two decades.

Under the Mission Schools of Excellence, the state government will build 50,000 new classrooms and convert nearly 1 lakh existing classrooms of government-run schools into smart classrooms using 5G technology, the prime minister said. "Using this technology, a teacher can impart real-time education to several schools in villages through online mode. Now, the best education and content will reach everyone. Students of villages will be benefited the most because of this initiative," the PM said.

Homage to the brave hearts who lost their lives for the country in the line of duty

21st October is observed as Police Commemoration Day. It is a national holiday to pay tribute to the martyrs who have sacrificed their lives in the line of duty. It is also a day to express gratitude to the officers and the families of those who continue to serve and protect us every day. "The Wall of Valour" - 30 feet tall granite sculpture stands at a police memorial with the names of over 35,000 martyrs who sacrificed their lives in the line of duty and reminds them of their valour and glory. This is day is observed as Martyr's Day in all police forces of India.

Since Independence, 34,832 Police personnel have sacrificed their lives for safeguarding the integrity of the nation and providing security to people of this country. Since Independence, 23,000 Indian Army soldiers have made supreme sacrifice. If we deeply go to the reality, with the increasing rate of crimes, today, the shortage of manpower has an impact both on crime prevention and detection. With the increasing rate of crimes, shortage of manpower will have an impact both on crime prevention and detection. Inspectors and SIS at the police station have little time to focus on all cases and investigation is usually confined to sensational cases or grave crimes. From problems relating to police organisation, infrastructure and environment to obsolete weaponry and intelligence gathering techniques to shortage of manpower to corruption, police force in the country is not in a good shape.

There are Police personnel who are also complaining of stress due to over working. Deployment of police for traffic regulation and accident prevention activities also takes a beating. There are occasions where most of the time Police personnel goes attending to day-to-day functions like VIP security, public agitations etc. For every Indian VIP, there are three police personnel. There are as many as 47,557 cops protecting 14,842 VIPs across the country which comes to a ratio of three to one. The incidents of chain and bag snatching have also been reported frequently across the city. While residents and experts stress the need for increased patrolling, the question many ask is if there are enough policemen to do the job. The shortage of staff often leads to delay in investigation and filing of charge-sheet in cognizable offences. There should be no compromise in the deployment of men for vehicle checks, night patrolling and traffic regulation. Unlike the Assembly elections where Central para military forces were roped in for security, the State Police have to manage the local body polls with the available strength. With no major recruitment done in recent times and thousands of police personnel retiring each year, the vacancies are set to increase, making it difficult for police to manage the election along with routine duties. The increasingly sedentary lifestyle of younger generations, the increased occurrence of obesity, and the relatively low fitness level of so many people have also led to a smaller group of potential police officer candidates. There is a huge manpower shortage in the police department. The police-population ratio, currently 192 policemen per lakh population, is less than what is recommended by UN i.e. 222 policemen per lakh. There is now a serious requirement for the execution of the proposed system as the city population is growing and a stronger police force is needed to tackle crime and L & O situations. It is also reported that more and more police personnel were being diagnosed for hypertension, diabetes and stress-related ailments in the annual health screening camps. The situation is more or less the same in many stations in the city where police personnel are forced to put in extra hours. Therefore, the State Government should recruit personnel on a war footing. ## Rout those insulting Gujarat with 'canards': Modi tears into AAP

RAJKOT: Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Wednesday mounted a full-on attack on his political opponents and asked people in his home state to rout those insulting Gujarat with what he called a torrent of canards. At a rally in Junagadh, where he dedicated to the people and laid foundation stones of projects worth Rs 4,155 crore, Modi said some parties have spreaded about the state, "he said in an attack aimed at AAP. AAP has been actively campaigning in Gujarat, where assembly polls are due this year-end. The party got into trouble recently when a video surfaced and its state president Gopal Italia was purportedly seen and heard abusing Modi as "neech" (lowly person). Modi said some parties feel their ideology is incomplete without showing Gujarat in a poor light. Not just Gujarat, but no one from any region of India should be subjected to slander, he said. "Be it someone from Bengal, Tamil Nadu or Kerala... their hard work and achievements should fill everyone with pride. We need to admonish the culture of playing politics over this." "Gujarat has progressed due to the hard work and penance of its people. The state has given employment to people from across the country. But for the past 20 years, gloom-mongers and fault-finders are unable to digest Gujarat's progress. ## Groundnut crop estimated at 29 lakh tonnes: Shri Saurashtra Oil Mills Association

RAJKOT: Shri Saurashtra Oil Mills Association (SOMA), the apex body of oil millers in Gujarat has estimated the groundnut production this season to 29 lakh tonnes, four lakh tonnes less compared to last year. The estimates were released on Monday. The demand for groundnut has increased in the domestic market due to drastically less harvest in southern states. According to SOMA, 22 lakh tonnes of crop is expected from 10 districts of Saurashtra and the rest from Kutch and north Gujarat districts. The average yield this year is 1,650 kg per hectare, which is said to be good compared to the previous years when the same was around 1,450 kg per hectare. SOMA estimates show that the highest production of 4.55 lakh tonnes is expected in Rajkot district followed by 4.24 lakh tonnes in Junagadh and 2.79 lakh tonnes in Devbhumi Dwarka district.

Incidentally, the Solvent Extractors' Association of India (SEAI) on Sunday estimated groundnut production in Gujarat to around 30 lakh tonnes in the current year. This year, the crop was damaged due to excessive rain in Gir-Somnath and Junagadh districts.
